CONT.

PRACTICUM COORDINATOR

UNIVERSIDAD ANA G. MÉNDEZ | CAROLINA, PR
2014-2022

As a coordinator for Universidad Ana G. Méndez, Carolina Campus my duties were very diverse. Main tasks included identifying practicum centers for various programs, manage student progress, maintain communication with centers and manage courses on Blackboard.

Aside from this, I aided in the creation of new programs for the José A. (Tony) Santana School of Hospitality and Culinary Arts which included a Professional Certificate in Travel and Tourism and a Graduate Certificate in Tourism Destinations Management. Also helped in the self-study and specialized accreditation process for MSCHE, ACFEF and ACPHA, among other administrative and academic duties.

ADJUNCT PROFESSOR

2014-2022

As a professor, my tasks were mostly teaching hospitality courses at bachelor's degree level for the José A. (Tony) Santana International School of Hospitality and Culinary Arts. Some courses taught are but not limited to: Hospitality Sales and Marketing, Basics of Wines, Beers & Spirits, Introduction to Culinary Concepts, Food and Beverage Management.

With the COVID-19 pandemic I also had to move courses to a digital format using Blackboard Collaborate and keep content engaging so that the learning process could be more effective.

ADJUNCT PROFESSOR

NUC UNIVERSITY | SAN JUAN, PR
2012-2014

As a college professor for NUC University in San Juan, Puerto Rico, my main duties were related to academics and student related issues within the School of Culinary Arts. Some courses taught are but not limited to: Principles of Management, Mixology and Enology Principles, Storeroom Procedures, Cost Control and Inventory, Menu and Facilities Planning. I also implemented new content and standards for these associate degree courses.
